WOMEN 2 WOMEN

Female entrepreneurship... in a remarkable way

Gauteng Women in Insurance welcomed members to its first event of the year, at Hollard's Villa Arcadia, with Hollard Insure as the main sponsor. Guest speaker, Nonhlanhla Joye, shared a story that lifted spirits and inspired hearts as members heard how... Read more

SUCCESS STORIES

Career women success stories... Daniela Frömmel and Natasha Maroun

The dynamic duo Daniela Frömmel and Natasha Maroun share how to be a mom and a business woman. To be (a working mom) or not to be... Read more

Set powerful deadlines

If you are working great without deadlines and goals, then by all means, keep going. But if you are struggling to push a project forward (or a learning project like language lessons), then you might try a self-imposed deadline... Read more

Women: change your reality if you want to lead

A recent study put South Africa in the top 10 in the world when it comes to the number of women in leadership positions. According to Nicola Middleton, founder of GodBrands, simply looking at the numbers tells a severely limited and constrained story... Read more

Young and not as healthy as we think

Young women between 18 and 30 years of age are generally thought to be in good health. However, research from the World Health Organisation (WHO) shows young women are becoming more disposed to various diseases and illnesses... Read more

Legal Talk: Can I breastfeed my child at work?

Some women think that they need to give up their work in order to breastfeed their children. Others find it difficult to find a space to breastfeed in their workplace. And others think they should feed their baby formula, so they can go back to work more easily. Find out more about breastfeeding and the law in this article... Read more
