GAUTENG WOMEN IN INSURANCE

She LEADS

GWII Leaderwalk Business Breakfast

Gauteng Women in Insurance (GWII) hosted its first Leaderwalk Business Breakfast for 2026 on 3 March at The Venue Green Park in Morningside, Sandton. Bringing together professionals from across the insurance value chain, the session offered a forward-looking lens on the year ahead, examining industry dynamics, regulatory shifts, cybersecurity, technological disruption and the evolving role of intermediaries.

The breakfast set a collaborative tone for the year, with four respected speakers sharing strategic insights that helped attendees make sense of an increasingly complex and... Read more

CPD session – the claims perspective: lessons in liability claims

Gauteng Women in Insurance (GWII) recently hosted a CPD session titled “The Claims Perspective: Lessons in Liability Claims,” proudly sponsored by Camargue. The session was presented by Melissa Mannell, who shared practical insights drawn from real-world liability claims scenarios... Read more

Safeguarding economic freedom through risk protection

As South Africa observes Freedom Month in April, the occasion calls for reflection that goes beyond the ceremonial and asks what it truly takes to sustain economic freedom, not just to claim it. For many South Africans, especially women who support households, establish businesses, and increasingly take on leadership roles within the insurance sector, economic stability, business continuity, and social cohesion are not merely aspirational ideals to mention on public holidays. They are the tangible, everyday conditions that give freedom its significance and... Read more

Gender equality in the workplace: moving beyond promises in 2026

The Women's Report 2025 shone a spotlight on the stubborn realities of gender inequality in South Africa's workplaces. While progress has been made, it is painfully slow - and in many cases, promises of equality are not translating into lived experiences for women. Now, in 2026... Read more

Empowering women to build wealth and confidence

Despite global progress, research shows that women still face barriers when it comes to building long-term wealth. These challenges often include career breaks, longer life expectancy, and a lack of financial confidence. Yet, women are also set to own a growing share of global wealth, positioning them as powerful financial decision-makers... Read more

The gender health gap: what's at stake

Women face deeply entrenched disparities in healthcare - from later diagnoses and under-treatment to limited research into conditions uniquely affecting them. Globally, women spend about 25% more time in poor health than men - translating into 75 million years lost annually due to ill... Read more

Legal talk: Online harassment: the digital threat women can't ignore

Cyberbullying and cyberstalking aren't just online problems - they have real-world consequences. Here's how to fight back. Cyberbullying and stalking don't just hurt online - they can turn dangerous. Learn how to protect yourself and your... Read more
